Railean Distillers Launches Single Barrel Rum

TEXAS, June 1, 2009 – Railean Distillers, LLC (Railean Distillers) announced today that they have officially released their RAILEAN Small Cask Reserve. The new Ultra-Premium dark rum is expected to be on the shelves of fine retail stores by July 1, 2009. The Railean Distillery has initially released 20 cases of this product, with plans to release another 80 cases throughout the remainder of the calendar year. The Small Cask Reserve rum is handcrafted, and aged in small, charred, new American oak barrels. This Ultra-Premium rum has been aged in barrel for a minimum of two years, and the final product is a single-barrel rum, as opposed to a rum blended from multiple barrels with various maturity levels. “I am very excited about the release of our RAILEAN Small Cask Reserve Rum. The barrels we are sourcing this product from are the very first barrels we began aging rum in over two years ago when we first opened our doors. It has been tough for me to not blend those barrels into our Reserve XO program and the resulting Small Cask Reserve rum is simply fantastic.”

RAILEAN Small Cask Reserve Tasting Notes:

Rich & sophisticated with notes of oak, leather, and mocha. The first sip reveals toasted sugar notes, with hints of dark caramel and chocolate following close behind. The finish is long and full bodied with a delicious earthy and woody quality. This rum is perfect for sipping on the rocks, or with just a splash of water.
